Congress will convene next Monday.
The Windsor hotel, St. Paul, burned last night.
The Duluth Herald and Journal have consolidated.
Duluth's magnificent Congregational church burned Saturday. Loss $30,000.
Jake Sharp has been granted a new trial and is out on bail amounting to $40,000.

To-day's Press contains a very sensational account of the Robinson-Schwartz wedding.
Does prohibition prohibit? The people of Atlanta, Ga. by their ballots say that it does not.
The order of railway conductors will push a bill in congress to license conductors on all inter-state roads.
We are glad to see the News follow in the footsteps of the Dispatch and advocate the establishing of a night school in Brainerd.

A Norwegian paper at Fergus Falls opposes the hanging of Holm, the brutal murderer, and is endeavoring to secure a pardon for him.
Work on the Little Falls dam has been suspended for the present on account of a failure to get timber. The stone work is still in progress.
Prohibition has been defeated at Atlanta, Ga. This is a severe blow to prohibition, as it has been on trial there for the past two years, and the result indicates that in practice it is a failure.

The Minneapolis Tribune and Journal are each advocating the idea of the city owning its own illuminating plant and the Star-News comes out and claims it is a job put up to deplete the city treasury.

Cass county, D. T., runs behind its tax receipts $10,000 per annum, but on account of returning $36,000 illegally collected railroad taxes and losing $20,000 saloon license, there will be a deficit of $54,000 for the current year.

The Washington Post interviewed over 100 congressmen recently, a large majority of whom were in favor of the government going in to the telephone business. The days of Western Union monopoly evidently are numbered.

Henry George, the great champion of poverty was to lecture at Minneapolis but on finding that the cash which he expected to realize out of the trip was not likely to pan out very big, he broke the appointment. Henry is getting rich out of his poorer followers.

Postmasters have been informed by the department officials that hereafter postal clerks on the railroads will not be allowed to cancel stamps. Letters mailed on a train will be put off at the next post-office to be canceled by a postmaster, which will consequently delay such a letter one day. This order took effect on the 15th day of September 1887.

Electric Lights.

All are agreed that the streets in the business portion of our city ought to be lighted. How, by whom, and at what expense shall this be done? These are questions that ought to be answered, not hastily, but after a thorough investigation of the whole subject. This matter should be disposed of upon business and economic principles. It rests with the city council to say, ultimately, what shall be done, but they ought not to lose sight of the fact that the wishes of their constituents—the people—should be, at least, considered, if not carried out. If our aldermen fail to do their duty in this respect, and ignore and repudiate the demands of the people, they become misrepresentatives, and ought, in turn, to be repudiated and their acts ignored. When a threatened danger is pointed out to this honorable body of men, editors, with us upon his own honest convictions of right and dare to do the right. And we believe that our city council is made up of men who, when they rightly understand the question under consideration, will not go very far astray. We do not believe that these honorable gentlemen have so much of love and admiration for any one man that, as against the wishes and earnest protests of the people, they can be led into doing the city an irreparable wrong. Neither do we believe that they will look upon us as a "crank" or a "kicker," as will those who are so ready to jump upon us, because we take the liberty of trying to point out to them wherein the city is in error. We are not fighting of the streets of our city. It is for this purpose alone that we write this letter. We don't like to see the council make so grave a mistake as to pile upon this city an onerous debt for lights when it can be avoided. We can have all the lights we want, at less than one-half the price asked for the present plant of electric lights. If this is true, ought not the saving to be made? Is it right to pay double what lights can be produced for, simply to please the fancy, or whim, or caprice of a few interested parties? Look at the contract which was attempted to be worked through the council at its last session. It was enough to make an honest man blush with shame to even listen to it. One hundred and forty-four dollars per light—seven thousand two hundred dollars for fifty lights—per year! Is there no danger when men dare to approach the council with such a monstrous proposition? Think of it! We much more than make up for the twenty years' franchise! Only $144,000. Then add to this the cost of fifty more lights for the same time, and we have a total of only $288,000—a cool quarter of a million—for illuminating the streets of the city for twenty years! Is there no danger? And ought not the city to move cautiously in this matter? Happily for the interests of our city they have not, as yet, been hurried, and the people are to be congratulated. The coast is clear, and we are safe. But it is said the lights have been put in and ought to be kept. Why not? Why not let them put in? Did the people? Certainly not. Then why should we pay for them? They can be taken out and nobody will be displeased. It is far better that the city should be than that this city be compelled to pay the price asked for them. We are in receipt of a letter from a party in Minneapolis in which, in speaking of electric lights, he says, "in their present imperfect state electric lights are dear at any price upon a long term, but in their infancy, and great improvements must follow." What then will be the condition of things if the city contract for the present plant, when the improved lights are brought forward? We can't have the improved but must use the lights we agreed to take. Speaking of this subject the Minneapolis Star-News says: "But however this may be, the price asked for the present plant is so foolish for the city to invest any money at present in an illuminating plant. Experiments are now going on in Pittsburgh which promise to demonstrate that a good fuel gas can be made from coal at a cost of from two to four cents per 1000 feet of light. The process of manufacture enough waste heat can be utilized to produce sufficient electricity to light the entire city. If these experiments prove successful, as they did in Pittsburgh, a city could be entirely heated and lighted, and enough heat supplied for cooking and space heating at a low cost than would now be required for illumination alone. If the city is to invest any money it should wait for the outcome of these experiments and the perfection of improved processes in electric lighting that are now under way." This reason alone should keep the city from making any contract whatever for the present plant of lights on long time. We are not the only city that is being agitated over this question. Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis and other cities have been discussing the matter, and have reached a solution of it. Minneapolis, with one hundred and fifty dollars per light has been paid, it is found to be exorbitant. The Journal of that city says: "It is a question which involves all the considerations of economy for years to come" and says that the cost can be reduced half. The dispatches from Detroit, Mich., inform us that "that city has for years been in the grasp of an electric monopoly. It jumped at once to the high price of $1.00 per foot of light. And we are told that proper proceedings have been taken by the city council, and that the city is now in the grasp of a former cost. In Chicago an electric light plant is being run at a cost of $50 per light per year, or fourteen cents per foot of light. Why and how was this brought about? Simply because they found out they were being "roasted" by the electric light companies, and in the investigation following which resulted in the cities putting in its own lights. In all these cities it will not be long before the streets will be lighted by the city, and it will make it madly rush into the hungry, greedy grasp of a monopolist! Let the city wait until next spring and then take the matter up. Why not? Why not put in its own electric light plant and make its own light. If lights can be produced for $50 per light per year, why not here, and the city will be saved the next little sum of $4,700 per year. Will the council do its duty? We believe it will.

Respectfully Yours,
INTERESTED CITIZEN.

The Western Union Telegraph company has just issued a circular announcing a reduction of 25 per cent. in inter-state rates, to take effect Dec. 1st. A slight reduction was made Nov. 1st, which, with the present cut of 25 per cent., will make a big difference in the telegraph bills of merchants. Local rates have not been changed, and the exorbitant price of 40 cents for 10 words is still charged. If the company wanted to do the fair thing by the people they would reduce the rate to all points in the state to 25 cents.

Power of the Press.
DeKaggs—Newspapers! I'm sick of them! Full of lies—every one.
Dusenbury—You are too severe.
"Am I? Listen to me. I had a private party at my house the other night, and just as the neighbors felt tired I mentioned to a reporter that I had as guests a dozen prominent army and navy officers, two judges, a professor and a famous traveler. The reporter then names you, understand."

"Well?"
"Well, what did the paper do? Come out with an accurate account of the affair! Oh, I tell you, the tyranny of the press is awful."—Philadelphia Call.

A DINING CAR LINE TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

The Northern Pacific Railroad, the only one of the transcontinental lines running dining cars through to the Pacific coast, announced a new time schedule taking effect Nov. 20, 1887. The principal features of this new schedule are:
First. Twelve hours quicker time from St. Paul to Helena and Butte, Montana, and twenty-four hours shorter time to Portland, Ore., Tacoma, W. T., and all North Pacific coast points, by the limited express leaving St. Paul at 4 p. m. daily. The time of No. 2, the corresponding train east bound, will be shortened seventeen hours.
Second. An additional through express train, to which will be attached Pullman sleepers, dining cars and emigrant sleepers, leaving St. Paul at 8 a. m. daily, for Helena, Butte, Missoula, Spokane Falls and Eastern Washington points; this train making the through time five hours quicker than the former Pacific coast express, giving the intended Pacific coast train seven hours quicker time than heretofore.
Third. Three express trains daily from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Moorhead, Minn., Fargo and Jamestown, D. T., with through Pullman sleepers to Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Wahpeton and principal points in North Dakota. The Northern Pacific not only offers to the traveling public the best train service, including its famous dining cars, Pullman palace drawing room and sleeping cars, emigrant sleepers and splendid day coaches, but from Chicago and all Eastern cities to Portland, Ore., as quick time as by any other route, while to Butte and Helena, Mont., it is the shortest line by one hundred and seventy-six and three hundred and sixty-six miles respectively, actually saving the traveler to Butte six hours, and to Helena, eighteen hours, as against any other line.

The great reduction in time will be of particular interest to all classes of travel, especially Yellowstone Park and Pacific coast excursionists contemplating a return trip by the all rail line—the "Mt. Shasta" route—between San Francisco and Portland, and a trip along the Columbia river or over the famous Cascade mountains via the Northern Pacific.

BRainerd, MINNESOTA.

Senator Stanford of California, is about to import skilled laborers from Bordeaux to replace the Chinese now working in his vineyards.

If this dynamite bomb business continues, the public will begin to demand that any anarchist found with a bomb in his possession be summarily dealt with, just as rattlesnakes, rabid dogs and other deadly enemies of humanity are given their quietus.

General Grant's youngest son, Jesse, is the managing member of a syndicate of California and eastern capitalists which is in a fair way of receiving very important concessions from the Mexican Government for mining, railroad building, colonization and other purposes.

Rev. Wm. Robinson, pastor of the Cambridge Presbyterian church at Little Rock, Ark., was the Arkansas Methodist, edited by Rev. A. R. Winfield, for an alleged libel, and secured a verdict of $15,000, in damages. The suit caused much excitement owing to the high standing of the parties.

There is much excitement in Arizona Territory over an alleged rich gold discovery near Prescott, the indications being that it is one of the most valuable gold mines in the world. But such reports, generally generated by speculative interests, must always be taken with a grain of allowance.

The latest curiosity in real estate matters, is the report that there is a boom in real estate in the suburbs of Jerusalem, on account of the building of residences by wealthy Hebrews. Here is a chance for some of our western operators, whose occupation at home is not quite as remunerative as formerly.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, the Boston statistician, proposes to settle the railway controversy by a survey of the maritime provinces of Canada for $50,000,000 by the United States. The proposition does not meet with the general approval and has in it very little to commend it.

Vermont has recently followed the example of Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and one or two other States in opening a soldiers' home for veterans who have become impaired in health and reduced in circumstances, but who have no just claim to support through pensions from the Federal government, as they were not wounded or disabled while in service.

John Ruskin's revenue last year from his books is said to have been $20,000. If this is so, one of the most elevated and elevating of modern authors, a man who writes without a trace of mercenary or materialistic taint, enjoys a larger revenue from his literary work than almost any sensation-monger, whether in novels or periodicals of any sort, who uses the English language for money-making and cheap distillation.

A number of residents of Vienna have petitioned the municipal council to place a tax on hunchbacks to provide for the education of pauper school children. This tax would only be applied to unmarried men in a position to keep a family. The petition says: "If all those who are exempt from military service on account of physical infirmity are obliged to pay a tax, why should those be spared who volunteer to keep a family. The petition says: "If all those who are exempt from military service on account of physical infirmity are obliged to pay a tax, why should those be spared who volunteer to keep a family. The petition says: "If all those who are exempt from military service on account of physical infirmity are obliged to pay a tax, why should those be spared who volunteer to keep a family."

The New York Post says: It seems reasonable to expect that 1890 will find Brooklyn and Chicago with about 900,000 inhabitants apiece, and only with a few margin cities between them. Brooklyn has got the best advantage in the overflow of population from New York, which has increased largely over previous figures since the first elevated railroad was built in the city, and will be much stimulated by the completion of others now in process of construction.

It is only about two hundred-and-fifty-six years ago since the first Thanksgiving Day was observed in this country. Old Massasoit and his ninety-brave sons took to dinner with the long-faced Puritans. The Indians brought deer from the woods and the Europeans supplied them with turkey. Ten years later when the last batch of bread in the colony was in Governor Bradford's oven, and starvation was staring our New-England ancestors in the face, a good ship from Ireland appeared with provisions, and the day appointed for fasting was changed in to a day of thanksgiving.

Mr. Robert Bonner will publish in the New York Ledger of December 10 a card announcing his retirement from the management of that journal, having, he says, "transferred all my right, title and interest in the Ledger, the Ledger Building, and everything connected with the paper to my three sons, who will hereafter conduct the business under the firm name of Robert Bonner & Sons." He adds that he has retired from the Hartford Courant as an apprentice to the printing business forty-eight years ago, and thinks that now, in his sixty-fourth year, he is entitled to a rest.

Charles Dickens, Jr., is reading from his father's works in the eastern cities. He is not greatly interested in things this side the ocean, but is much pleased with his readers as he finds them. They are decidedly less demonstrative than in European cities, but no less appreciative. He says it is all both talking about American audiences and English; that if placed before them without any previous knowledge he could not himself tell which was which. This is especially true of all large cities. He does not find in the looks of American men, women and children, those marked differences from English people, which writers are wont to assert. American classify to nationality. An intellect, refined, man, or an intellect, mainly man, looks the same whether on this or that side of the Atlantic Ocean. Inferior people look so the world over. Hereafter people look as humanity, differing only in conditions.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

News from Washington.

Joseph Chamberlain is guarded by four British detectives during his stay in Washington.

Congressman Wilson of Minnesota has arrived in Washington, and is registered at the Arlington Hotel.

Senator Blackburn comes out for Gen. Black, commissioner of pensions, for vice president of the United States.

The president has received the voluntary resignation of Appraiser Hoffman, of Chicago, who resigns to re-engage in private business.

Frank Dillon of Minnesota, who has been appointed consul to Ascension, resigned his position in the adjutant general's office, Washington, recently.

The Senator Jones scandal is assuming another phase. The senator is now well pleased with his position, and is spending it freely over the bars of Detroit. The liquor sellers have been officially notified not to sell any intoxicants to the senator.

The acting commissioner of the land office has received a letter from the minister against French Bros. and William Scott, of the Deadwood (Dak.) land district, for the recovery of $1,000,000 in damages, and the million feet of lumber alleged to have been illegally cut from public domain by Scott and French Bros.

As Mrs. Cleveland passed the Ebbitt house recently, drawn by the seal brown, one of the hundreds of admirers, who were following her, and lifting the carriage pole in their effort to look at her, was killed. The animal to their feet and drove on, the frightened spectators breathing a sigh of relief.

Among numerous land decisions was that of P. Pieper vs. J. D. Stehr, involving the validity of the Minnesota land grant, cash entry, southeast quarter section 30, township 135 north range 4 west, Crook county, Minn., dated Nov. 10, 1885, holding the entry for cancellation. The decision was in favor of the plaintiff, and evidence it is found to fully support the decision complained of. It shows not only failure to comply with the law as to residence and cultivation, but that the allowance of the entry was procured by deception and fraud.

The latest report is that Mr. Parnell has been arrested by the Irish land league, and is being held in custody. There seems to be no truth in it, however. His malady is not such as to prevent him from traveling, and he is expected to leave for his home in Ireland.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal asserts that the arrest of Mr. Parnell is a violation of the laws of Ireland. It is illegal, it says, the Dublin depositions of Mr. Parnell, and that he is being held in custody of the same office, as he has taken thousands of United Ireland. ## Should Be Changed.

The government reservoirs on the upper Mississippi were closed the first of the month, and last week the water in the river at this place fell very rapidly, and is now, apparently, lower than ever before.

When none of the water powers
north of Minneapolis were improved, there was little interest taken by our people in the way the government engineer controlled the flow of the water in the Mississippi but now that manufacturing interests are soon to be affected by the volume of water in the river, it is certainly wise to begin agitating the subject of getting a more favorable control of the government reservoirs. A united effort of the people of the cities along the Mississippi north of Minneapolis, will result in changing the policy of the men who control these reservoirs. If the reservoirs continue to be closed exclusively in the interests of a few steamboat men who run boats below St. Paul, the cities of St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd will suffer greatly; but if the management could be so changed that the water supply would be kept at nearly the same volume the whole year, it would be of value advantage to the cities above named. This matter should not be delayed until the water is needed, but united action must be taken at once to get the government reservoirs in the hands of officials who appreciate the rights and needs of the interests along the upper Mississippi.—Little Falls
